Since we are Uzbeks, we have been living and growing for years without losing our nationality. Our national traditions and customs, which have become a part of our life, are our beauty. It is our duty to pass such wonderful feelings from generation to generation. From the moment we gained independence, we started to pay close attention to our national traditions and customs. National customs The repetitive behavior reflected in our life that serves the development of our country is a manifestation of the rules of behavior and skills accepted by the majority. national traditioncustoms are formed within the framework of a particular person and nation. National traditions are improved under the influence of the history, traditions, folklore, art and literature, lifestyle, actions and other factors of the nation and people. It is definitely appropriate to use our national traditions as a textbook for the young generation. When stepping into the so-called school, every person with a strong heart should step with our nationalism in his heart. it is the duty of our pedagogues.

It is desirable that students of preschool educational organizations should have a lot of knowledge and skills about our nationality. Of course, if we explain to children more in children's language or in the form of songs and games, they will definitely understand each knowledge carefully. By teaching the children about our national games, it is one of our national games. Of course, the children gradually get used to the idea of national games, and learn what games our fathers and grandfathers played in ancient times. One of our national games is the White Poplar Blue Poplar game.

White poplar, blue poplar? - a children's game. In this game, participants are divided into 2 equal teams depending on their height, strength and agility (from 10 to 20 children participate in each team), and line up holding hands at a distance of 15-20 m. The captain of the first team calls out the name of one of the second team: White poplar, blue poplar! Who do you need from us? We need "so-and-so" from you.

After that, that called boy runs and tries to break the place where the members of the opposing team are holding hands with his chest. If the hands are broken from the place where they were caught, he takes any of the children from the opponent's side to his team, if not, he stays in that team. The game continues in this way. The team that has no players left wins.

Another one of our games is the chill game. This game is one of the games that are mainly played during Nowruz holiday.

Chillik game is the national game of the Uzbek people. For the game, a stick with a length of about one meter "Enasop" and a stick are prepared. The length of the stalk is 15-20 cm, both ends are pointed in the shape of a pencil. The purpose of this is to hit the tip of the chili while it is on the ground and lift it into the air. It is directed to a distance by hitting the air-raised chili with an enasop. The game of Chillik has started to fall out of favor in recent years. Nowruz is remembered and played in national elections. National games such as "Nongoq", "Kumtaka", "Lanka tepish", "Happak", "Kulok chozma", "Tapron", "Besh tash", "Chillik" were performed.

Another favorite game of our children is five stones. Five stones is a children's game. Five or more smooth and small stones are obtained. While holding one stone in one palm, the player must also knock another stone from the ground with the other hand, and each stone taken is kept in the player's hand. The player who collects all the stones without dropping a stone wins. Hand movements will increase this month.

Such wonderful games help children to quickly and easily understand our national values and national traditions. The events that are held during the holidays while preserving our nationality are also very effective. On our holidays, we wear our national costumes and sing our national songs, wearing wonderful dresses made of fabrics such as adras, satins, etc. Today, such wonderful holidays are also fun in preschool educational organizations. The joy on the faces of the little children is certainly a happy situation, if we say that the national clothes are the actions of our national traditions.

Among our national games are cockfighting, national wrestling, who will take this grudge, stone-stone game.

One of our children's songs that our children love to sing is Oyijon, it hurts, especially our girls love to sing this wonderful song, and they sing it and perform on stage. One girl will play the role of a bear in national dress and our second girl will play the role of a little girl in a dress made of satin fabric, and they will put on a wonderful scene.

Girl. Oh my gosh, oh my gosh

I have a headache

Mother. From your head

Let your month heal, what ails you

Girl. It will be in the markets,

Sold in stores,

His name is dice ball.

It hurts.

Mother. It hurts, it hurts, it hurts

Girl. Oijon, Oijon-e

My ear hurts

Mother. May the moon learn from your ears,

Why does it hurt?

It will be in stores,

It is sold in the markets,

And his name is golden zirak

So it hurts

Mother. It hurts, it hurts, it hurts

Girl. Oh my gosh, oh my gosh My wrist hurts

Mom, let the moon learn from your wrist,

Why does it hurt?

Girl. It will be in jewelers.

While selling in stores,

And his name is golden crutch

It hurts.

Mother. It hurts, it hurts, it hurts

Girl. Oh my gosh, oh my gosh

My leg hurts

Mother. May the moon be at your feet,

Why does it hurt?

Girl. Probably in the markets,

Selling in stores.

His name is fashion shoes

It hurts.

Mother. It hurts, it hurts, it hurts

Our children love to sing such wonderful national songs. He grows up singing such wonderful songs. I think that if we sing our national anthems together with more children and memorize them during training in pre-school educational organizations, our nationalism will be appreciated and raised. Such traditions also help in our education and upbringing process. If we create such skills in children and teach them to be national, there will certainly never be a shortage in the future.

In conclusion, in conclusion, if we put our national games, national songs and poems in the hearts of growing children, if we sing songs as an example to them, if we show our national clothes on holidays without losing our nationality, these feelings will not disappear and will not die.
